NOTICE REGARDING ALL HEARINGS – ABUSE, NEGLECT, DEPENDENT CHILDREN

If a complaint has been filed and the child(ren) is/are adjudicated abused, neglected, and/or dependent, or if a motion has been filed, an order of protective supervision, temporary custody, legal custody, planned permanent living arrangement, or permanent custody may result.

An order of protective supervision permits the child(ren) to remain with the parent, guardian, or custodian.

An order of temporary custody will cause the removal of the child(ren) from the legal and physical custody of the non-custodial parent, guardian, or custodian until the Court terminates the order, grants an alternative disposition, or, at another hearing, permanently divests the parents of their parental rights.

An order of legal custody will cause the removal of the child(ren) from the legal and physical custody of the non-custodial parent, guardian, or custodian for an indefinite time.

An order placing the child(ren) in a planned permanent living arrangement will cause the removal of the child(ren) from the legal and physical custody of the parent, guardian, or custodian for an indefinite time if the Court finds any of the conditions listed in Section 2151.353(A)(5)(a) to (c) of the Ohio Revised Code to exist.

An order of permanent custody permanently divests all parents, guardians, and legal or temporary custodians of all of their parental rights, privileges, and obligations with respect to the child(ren).

A case plan may be prepared for the child(ren)/family. The case plan may require you to participate in certain supportive services in order to assist you in meeting the goals and objectives of the case plan. You may be held in contempt of court and subject yourself to a fine, incarceration, removal from the child(ren)'s home, or another appropriate sanction for failure to comply with the terms of the court ordered case plan.

You may be subject to a child support obligation. Failure to appear may result in the loss of valuable rights, may subject you to a court sanction, may result in a judgment against your interests, may affect your parental rights, and may result in the temporary or permanent loss of legal and physical custody of the child(ren).

You have the right to be represented by an attorney in these proceedings and you have the right to have counsel appointed if you are indigent. You may request the prompt appointment of an attorney by contacting the Case Coordinator at (937) 496-3158.
